

Auto Immune/healing

Paul Solomon Reading 9382

Q: (Name)... has been suffering with an itching, heat, throughout the whole body which is preventing her from even walking. This has persisted for many years. We have tried many things and we cannot seem to cure it. Would you please comment on this?

A: The condition is, of course, a response of the immune system. It is referred to as an auto immune response with the release of histamine in the system as a reaction to pollutions in the environment. But even more so, it is a response to the knowledge of the condition of the environment.

The healing, of course, is best taken by healing the self within you, knowing that it is alright to know of, to be aware of and responsible for the condition of the environment without requiring that the skin and the immune system remind you of it. It is best, and perhaps most effective, to speak to the body, the skin, and particularly the kidneys, for the skin is attempting to take on the response or the purpose, the expression of the kidneys in the cleansing. Speak to it, in a sense which says, "Yes, I have heard. I understand. You are telling me of the condition of the environment and the surrounding."

Then the overcoming will be best accomplished by taking no less than six tumblers of water each day. It is best that you take distilled water, but add to it homeopathic amount of mineral salts. Six to eight ounce tumblers of water a day, every day to cleanse and flush the system.

It would not hurt at all to, at times, treat the skin to a luxury, if you will, of a drop of pure collagen gel, pure collagen, human collagen, applied ever so sparsely over the body. It is a film of protection, and it will help, of course. And the use of Vitamin B, Niacin, in perhaps mega-dosage, timed release, will dilate the capillaries near the skin and flush the skin so that it no longer so reacts to the environment.

More than anything else, talk encouragingly of the healing of the environment and send that which is foul about the breath of the earth into the outer layers away from the surface of the earth, for you might want to learn that ozone trapped at the earth's surface will choke the earth, but ozone sent to the polar caps will heal the earth. This same homeopathic principle, that which will kill, will cure. But the cure is in the sending of it to the polar caps that it may be healed. In the direction of the will in such a way, can be healing of the earth be brought.
