

The Soul After Death

Paul Solomon Reading 0091 - L - 0060 - FA - 0001 - KW, Atlanta, Georgia, December 6, 1972

Question 8: Where is my deceased father (name), born February 7, 1907, and what is he doing? Is he happy, and can I reach him? If so, how?

Answer 8: Now there often have been the visitations by this one in the periods of the night, particularly in the dreams, and if there were the study, and the attempt to recall the dreams nightly, always recording one dream each night or more, there would often be found and realized the visitations.

However, it would not be advisable that there would be the continued attempts to contact this one, for there need be the release from earth planes and going on to higher planes for higher development. Do not seek to hold one back who is finished with this incarnation, and goes on to higher schooling, higher learning, higher development, for as there is the holding back, there is the retardation of growth. And neither can this one help those on earth plane, though those on earth plane help this one as long as there is the binding together. Seek only that you would be aware of his presence when there would be the attempts to visit from the other side. Seek not to hold him back or maintain the relationship, for there is much to be done in this soul's growth.

It should be given that this one is very happy with the transition as has been made and has often been able to bring the teachings, particularly to this seeker. It is not necessary that the seeker be aware of those lessons that have been taught or the assistance that has come from inner planes, for the father in this case detracted attention from the self and often planted guidance, those beneficial, both to the seeker and to the mother. As there are the attempts to remember, there will be the connection between incidents that were the manifestations from this one in manners of teaching and guidance.

© 2007 The Paul Solomon Foundation