

Training To Become A Healer

Now we find those instructions that have been given concerning the treatment of this body, and those who are to be brought as the healers, and consider those who were instructed to come in these manners, for did we not call those who would study and become the healers? Then, if you would be part of that School of Prophets as founded in this place, would this not be the opportunity that the Master would use for teaching thee those things that you would learn concerning the human body and the healing thereof, of the methods for bringing those things that would be necessary for the healing of the body?

But study those people in that day, those who were the healers, those who were the forerunners, the teachers of the Christ, those who prepared that field into which He came – for, so, in that day were those who went out among all the world touching, teaching, and healing.

And did even the Master Himself come into His Ministry in this day with such abilities as to touch one and cause the body to be reconstructed or to be healed? But we would have you realize that He spent many days, many nights, working with those bodies in the temple there, and as He studied, as he prepared himself for the ministry, there often were the hours of moving the limbs in this way and that, and seeking to pattern the mind, that the mind might look, or the eye might look upon this one constructed in those manners. And so instantly the mind, within itself, might correct the image, to see this one in perfect condition. Then having produced within the self, within the heart, the ability to believe, the ability to conceive of this person in such a perfect state, then would touch, causing perfection to enter into the body.

These came not about in a moment, nor in a day, nor will they again in this place. But those who would be of service to the Master and who would express His presence in this day, would so develop even as he developed.

Then would we call upon those who would be the healers, to bring about this group, or to initiate this action, placing no responsibility on this one who comes with such karmic condition.

But we would find, in the self, if you would attract those who would come and give of self, give of time, and learn patience, give of physical strength, and of love, then-what will you do to cause them to be attracted? Would you not begin with developing in self the sense of humor, for such is very needed in this particular one: that you would learn the ability to smile and be happy.

And would you not be a joy for those who would come and give of themselves for the time each day, that they would learn to pattern this, a human body, and bring it into perfection. Then would you be the creators, would you be the healers, would you be the living God in this world in this day, by perfecting a human.

Then begin within the self, and if there be not one to give of himself for the healing, then begin with that instrument for exercise. And giving it at the same time exactly, each day, that there may be set up a rhythm, a habit, to which the body would respond. Then will the healers be attracted, and as the determination is shown within thyself, so will others come.

Then, reconstruct the thought towards others, for those drawn karmically into this life are those of the family, and we see much hate rather than love that would exist in these situations. And unless these be brought in love that would exist in these situations, unless these be brought in love, and be reconstructed in love, then how could the conditions be healed?

For know: that which manifests physically is only a pattern or copy of that which comes within about the heart. And is there not deep within the heart of this one a resentment towards the parents, a desire to punish, a refusal to become healed, for the reason that this would eliminate that resentment toward the parents or that which is sought as attempt to punish these others? But these come from past lives, from past existences where there were those karmic effects.

Then overcome! Overcome first, then, within the heart, and as you would seek to re-pattern, as you would seek to see love in the mother, in the sister, in these others – as you would seek to see them reacting in love, one toward another, and refuse to see that which has been in the past. But see them as new creatures and create them so.

And would you be responsible for always bringing a smile, for bringing laughter into this situation. And recreate that which is for God, that which does reflect God on this earth. And in so healing the conditions of the heart and mind in others, so then you will produce those conditions that would bring about healing in the self.

Now we would seek not that day further would be wasted in settling about those programs for there need be the healers going out from this place. And we would take those who have been so exposed to this teaching and have heard His command here, and have heard the promise from these Sources saying: “If you will give of yourself, we will perfect this body.”

Then those who have ears, let them hear, and let them know if that which they have heard is not put into practice, then we will take that ability to hear. And we will not exist with those karmic conditions that have come from refusal to use these instruments in the service of thy Master.

Then look about you on this plane in this day, if you would understand karma, and see those without the hearing, without the sight. Search your heart and realize those conditions that have come in past lives that caused the soul to decide:

“That which was my downfall, that which I refuse to use, shall be taken away. I will give this up; then. Coming into life again without these instruments, will I attempt to serve, and to serve better through the lack that I may regain when there is the proper use of that which I have.”

Now see these laws at work about you, for it is not the judgment of an arbitrary Father, but it is thine own judgment.

Then begin those applications of the low voltage electricity to these legs. Take up that which has been commanded and begin. If there be only one, so shall this one be blessed, and so will the Father do that which He has spoken. Then begin those applications or forget it. There is that which takes place in these legs within this body, for that which is not used, and that which is not built, will deteriorate. And will these not go past the point of being able to produce the healing therein, and has not much damage been set about already for your failure to do that which He has instructed that you should do.

Then, if you would do the Father’s business, recognize that which is the Father’s business. For would He not be glorified? And if you would take not the words of this Source, then hear His words, for He has spoken to them, “In as much as you would do it unto the least of these my brethren, you do it unto me.”

Then put your hands, your fingers, your thoughts upon the body of this one. And as he would lie upon the couch, and as you would give yourself to the Christ, so will your fingers not touch the body of thy Master? And will thy brother no longer be lying under the touch of your fingers, but you would find yourself massaging the muscles of the Master, even Jesus Himself lying before you in your presence. Nor even shall you touch the brow of one of the least of these children, that He will not manifest and give thee thanks. And if this one should fail to thank or give a smile, then look for it on the face of the Master, for He will not fail. Whatever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might, and know that He will bless. For where two or three are gathered in His name, there He will be. And will He not work with thee?

Then, those who would be of service to the Master , these will be attracted. And in 21 days we will see the change in these muscles, and that which gave no response in the beginning, as you pattern the movements of walking, as you attempt to awaken response here with the touch of the fingers, with the application of electricity, so shall these, then, respond even by themselves.

And so shall the Father bless, and so will the mind begin to be reconstructed, and so will you no longer see that which is produced in another body. As you give of self and as you touch with the fingers this or that muscle from one end to the other of these legs, so will ye feel here or there, this nerve or that nerve does not respond. There is no electricity here. And your fingers will become sensitive to that which is not aright within the human body. So will not the fingers become the fingers of the healer? And so will you not awaken in your self those tendencies, those activities that bring about the response in the human body?

Then learn to be the application of God's love, of His healing, by feeling here and there those nerves that are not awakened, those muscles that do not respond. And as you touch them, would you not search deep within the heart and give as the Master gave. And feeling this nerve or that, pray the prayer within the self, that unselfish prayer that would say to the Father:

"Even as you need, take this from me. Take from my own body the ability to respond here, and put it into his."

Be careful how you would pray for that which you offer may well be taken. Then would you give up the ability to walk in self that you might see the miracle of another standing to his feet through that which God has taken from thy body to create in another. Then give of self, lovingly, in this manner, and so shall the Father bless.

Now we must reconstruct the image in the mind of this one, in the soul, in that field that would pattern the growth. For that which is the soul here, that which is the force field surrounding this body, that which is the auric field which programs the growth of this body, if that image was corrected within the auric field, or if the idea, if the picture of self were changed to that of a perfect image, so will the growth be programmed to produce that effect.

That the mind's eye sees as self is that which is reproduced in self. As this body grows and re-grows day by day, as these cells reproduce, as there is food that comes in, and the impulses that go to the cells of this body, so they are reproduced, and each reproduced in perfect condition. They are, however, programmed. They are reproduced according to that image that is in the mind of this one. Then we would seek to reconstruct that image as that of a perfect image thereby reflecting that which the Father intended thee to be.

Then produce these photographs of the body, and these may be pre-printed on such a paper that pencil may be drawn, and altering the photograph to that of the perfect body that this image may be seen and seen daily. Then we will take this artist who has been trained here, this one who is the draftsman, and study those movements of walking, and make then a series of drawings using the body of this one that he might see self. And see that portion that would strike the ground first in the walking motion, then following through to the toes. And see the manner of motion.

Make strides then of these. Make the drawings of the bones, of the tissues. And as you would study and program these movements, then so move the body in these movements, in these motions. Then alternatively applying that stimulation to the various parts, to the various muscles, to the portions of the legs here that there need be awakened, all the way down even unto the toes. Then there would be the application of the hot and cold water, going from one to another to increase, to stimulate the circulation of blood, the blood flow even to these extremities, carrying the more food, the more tissue to these bodies.

Now it would be more important even that which would come into the mind of these healers and into the mind of the one to be healed. Careful always that you see growth in these legs. And as you would come from day to day, each day would you expect to see these legs have grown a little. "There is growth here. This leg is a little longer than it was yesterday." Measure these after thirty days. And then shalt thou not have proof? But it has been promised, and know that it is so.

Then create these things in the mind and watch for the growth, and so will God bless. And if you would look for Cosmic Consciousness, if you would look for these experiences that would cause the love even of God and the awareness of His presence to well up even from within thine own heart, then find these through service to a brother. And would you stop here or would you go out further for those whom you can be a blessing?

For it is not in the heart, it is not in the mind, it is not in the spoken word that you would teach or preach the flowery sermons or show others of your knowledge, of your wisdom, or your abilities, but it is the one who would offer even a cold glass of water in His name, that he would bless with the vibrations of the body even of Jesus the Christ in this world, in this day. So shalt the prophets live and go out from this place. Not because they wanted to be the great ones, the Divine ones, those masters, those teachers, those adepts, but because there are those in this world who need His presence, who need His touch, who need their help.

Go ye therefore seeking to be a blessing, and so shalt thou walk with Him. Then if you would attract the healers to self, be attractive. For thou art given all that is needed to cause joy in the heart of another. When this face is smiling, when the eyes would sparkle, when there would be the attempt to cause the smiling reaction, the laugh, the happiness in another, so the ability is given, and so shalt there be a blessing. Then bless those who would come as the healers. Then see this as responsibility in changing the personality, changing the image of self, and changing that which you bring into this earth as vibration. So shalt thou be changed and reflect the perfection even of the Christ in this world, for this is thy service, this is that which he has given thou to do...

... Source: There has been given here then the challenge. There is a beginning place. Then seek those who would seek to be of service and agree as to that best time to come. There should be given at least one hour daily of the application of those as have been given the moving of the legs in the patterns of walking; the altering from the very hot to the very cold water for stimulating the blood flow; the application of the wet cell battery for the stimulating, for the waking up of these muscles, these nerves; and the much prayer.

Begin always with prayer. And see self, see each of these being drawn together as one. And as there is the touch, so does the mind, the heart of one, the attitudes of one, flow into another, and all become one and express the One Force in the touch. These shall not only be for the healing, these shall be for the spiritual enlightenment, for often would you see and feel the Force of the Christ Himself in your presence.

Then do not miss this blessing, but enjoy these as times of growth. It will require much time. It will be tedious. There will be those who will come and will drop out. There are those who will continue to become the healing force in this world and shall go forth to be called the healers, for their touch shall no longer require the months, the years of programming, of patterning, of moving this way and that. But in that instance that they would touch, so will there be felt the power of God in these who have so given themselves that they have come instruments of the flow, that vibration, that is the healing vibration, and has so created perfection in the heart of one body. So will you carry His Presence into all the world. Then build here that which He would be in thee.

Would be well if this would be at an early hour in the day; beginning the day with such an experience to set the pattern for the day. Beginning in such a way so will you develop the pattern of success in the mind of this one and in the heart of those who come and seek to serve. Then so beginning your day, continue each day of service in His name. So shalt this Fellowship earn its right to exist and shall you earn the right to call yourselves the Children of God, those 'little Christ's in His world service.

Paul Solomon Reading 0146 – LH – 0024 – MA – 0002 – JDE, Atlanta , Georgia , March 14, 1973

© 2007 The Paul Solomon Foundation