Privacy Statement

This statement relates to the Paul Solomon Foundation's (PSF) privacy practices in connection with this website. The PSF is not responsible for the content or privacy practices of other websites. Any external links to other websites are clearly identifiable as such.

General statement

PSF fully respects your right to privacy, and will not collect any personal information about you on this website without your clear permission. Any information which you volunteer to the PSF will be treated with the highest standards of security and confidentiality, strictly in accordance with all applicable EU and Irish data protection legislation.

Collection and use of personal information

PSF does not collect any personal data about you on this website, apart from information which you send us by email. Any information which you provide in this way is not made available to any third parties. We do not pass on any of your personal information when dealing with your enquiry, unless you have given us permission to do so.

Cookies

Cookies	Type	Duration	Description
Cookie Compliance	Persistent	1 year	Remembers if you clicked the accept button in the Cookie information bar at the top of your browser.
Google Analytics	Persistent	1 year	To help us improve our site and to better understand how people use our site, we use Google Analytics. Most websites use an analytics programme. The collected data is anonymous. It does not identify you as an individual in any way. It helps us identify how many people visit our site, which country they are from, how many pages they visited, how fast our site loaded, and so on.

Changes to this privacy policy

If this privacy policy changes in any way, we will place an updated version on this page. Regularly viewing this page ensures you are always aware of what information we collect, how we use it and under what circumstances, if any, we will share it with other parties.
