QUESTION 1: Please comment on the life purpose and direction for the future. Also please comment on past experiences applicable to the present life, including those with ...(Name)... Paul Solomon, ...(Name)... and ...(Name)... I feel particularly that myself and,,,(Name)... are to work together. Please comment on the value and purpose of ...(Name) special music tapes. She would like to know: when will I have enough profit from my music sales to start designing and performing my concerts. A few weeks ago I was given my spiritual name, Maitreya, and that my sixth album will be titled with this name. Would you please comment on these things?

ANSWER 1: Yes, we have these records and witnesses. Find that you ask a considerable amount for a single question. Let's attempt first to establish early contact between these souls and the forming of their agreements and bonds through those periods. Then we'll follow with the work of this time and the unfoldment of it. You became aware of one another, all these mentioned in this group, in a time when some of you had come from Alta to a land that is now for the most part called Egypt, and in the move, had established in this new land three schools or temples, three temples for the direction and awakening of consciousness of those lesser evolved souls of the planet who were entering in a new wave, a new race, as it were. The birth of a new race occurred in this time. And those of the Manu came from Alta, and established the means of awakening consciousness of self and God-consciousness in the awakening souls, through the temples called: the Temple Beautiful, the Temple of Sacrifice and the Temple of Initiation. Then you were led through the awakening to self in the performances and activities of the Temple Beautiful as your first experience of self and Source. Through vibration, rhythm, music and dance. And it should be known that much of the technology of that period was based on the attunement of rates of vibration to the extent that the cutting of stone and even movement of stone for the building of the temples of that time was accomplished by the focus of vibration. Much of that has not yet been recovered as technology, or understood.

And so the use of vibration in the Temple Beautiful was applied in the sense of causing souls, just awakening from sub-consciousness, coming from what might be referred to as a beastly form, into awakening through the exposure to beauty, thus beginning to recognize the expression of creativity and the awareness of God through the presentation of color, of sound, music, of light. So then, this one, whose records are before us was awakened in her first experience of self-consciousness and god-consciousness at the feet of, or through the training and ministrations of the priestess who is now called ...(Name)... who was the director of forms of music, drama and dance in the Temple Beautiful, and an initiator there. The focus of vibration was used as much in the Temple of Sacrifice as well. There applied by the master of that school, who you now call ...(Name)... In that time he was responsible for the reshaping of the physical vehicles. Some of which were as best can be expressed, beastly in form, and were in the Temple of Sacrifice made into a more perfected human form. And it is from that school that your schools of medicine, of surgery, of the martial arts, of yoga and such, all these that might be considered the physical arts, including that of breathing, that of pranayama, all these were born in that school. And all your modern forms of these are continuations of that school. And it should be understood that those who were priests and priestesses in these ancient Temples continue their service in those Temples even unto this day. It could well be said that the Temple Beautiful now exists as much as it ever did, and the priesthood of these Temples, continues to practice in reawakening knowledge they carry from that time.

And so is the ministry of ...(Name)... a continuation of her initiation in the Temple Beautiful and the carrying forward of the practices of that Temple into the Temples of Sacrifice and Initiation as well.

For even though the Temples were three, they also are one. All of them being Temples of Initiation, but with varied applications. And all those arts and sciences which awaken man today, whether through the healing of the body or the creation and awakening of the consciousness through music and arts, or the study of the esoteric sciences, the mysteries and magic, all of these are born of these schools.

The channel through whom we speak was an initiator of the Temple of Initiation during that time, and ...(Name)... now called, was one who directed the activities of souls from school to school in their graduation from the awakening of the soul in the Temple of Sacrifice to the refinement of consciousness in the Temple Beautiful, and for those who would attain to the priesthood, the carrying forward of their activities into the Temple of Initiation.

And so, in this time your soul, the one who is now called ...(Name)... in that time was Jeddaiia. And it is because of the memory of the vibration of that name that some in this time have remembered this soul and have caused a sort of similar sound to the soul name to become something of a nickname in this time.

But your name Jeddaiia meant: servant of the Most High, or servant of the Adored One, Adonai. And so in this time your purpose is to serve the bringing to the masters of the work of these three Temples. And so your soul has longed to complete the integration of the understanding, the initiatory understanding of these schools in this time. And it is natural that you would be drawn with a soul bond to that one who awakened your consciousness to self. For it was in that time that you first became aware of self as self, and aware of the relationship of the extended self into the body, with its contact to Source. The individualization of self was realized in that time.

And it was the responsibility of the priest of the Temple Beautiful to assist in establishing the relationship between the individualized self and its Source. The studies then, of course, were continued into the understanding of the mystic arts and sciences in the Temple of Initiation.

Your life purpose in this time then, to become a priest in your own right, of the Temple of Initiation. And serving those whose work you have remembered in the awakening of consciousness in that time, and especially realizing in this time that this is the lifetime of the twelfth path, or the twelfth initiation for your soul. The initiation of the twelfth is the initiation of integration. Thus it is integration that is the life purpose and through integration within yourself, becoming integrated. Bringing into self the fullness of the eleven and twelfth initiation under the power of the thirteenth, which is the Higher Self, or that Crown Self, which carries the connection to the Source, called the thirteenth path.

Thus the task is that of the twelfth initiation and the moving into the thirteenth path in this lifetime. Thus you will serve somewhat as a net-worker for these who have the ministries to carry. But you will also establish a ministry of your own. That those who are awakening souls in this time, might be brought the services of the Temples of Beauty, of Initiation and of Sacrifice, through a form of worship. And a ministry of healing and of the ministry of the Temple Beautiful integrated together in what will eventually become something of, as nearly as we can describe it, a retreat setting.

This you will work toward in your schooling, your training, your preparation in this time.

Then to step further into the records of the soul whose personality in this time is called ...(Name)... there is so very much to be opened and given here, as could be described. Your work unfolds in something of a complex manner in this lifetime. For your work eventually will take you into the collaboration with those who should reveal in this time the formula as was described 6x6x6. Or the formula that is simple, for the discovery of energy sources in this time, which are not based upon destruction.

But there is an awareness in your soul as well, that the consciousness of mankind must be prepared for the introduction of the formula, and so you were drawn to the ancient knowledge of the establishment of vibration for the healing of the centers of the body and for the gentle opening and integration of the bodies vortexes, or vortices.

Now, do understand that the turning of the wheels in the male and the female at the base move in opposite directions and so does each alternate wheel move in the direction opposite that above and below. Thus you have a complex system of antagonism between the turnings of these wheels resulting in physical manifestation of the stability of atoms which produce the seven chakras necessary to the involution of a soul into a physical body.

Your work then, is directed toward creating a harmony between the antagonisms of these wheels turning in opposite directions. And so you may have an image or a vision of these wheels of varying degrees ascending degrees of rate of vibration, from that of the red and infra red at the base through the fulcrum and to the ultra violet and the white beyond the crown. Now the bringing of music, light, vibration, sound and music, all these things together, for creating a whole soul harmony and the celestial music or the music of the spheres to lift the consciousness of the entire race, mankind, in this time, to a higher awareness which will allow the entry of Christ-consciousness to the minds of those who have been prepared by initiation to receive it and express it around the world.

All of this, the work with the initiates, who will begin to gather around what we have referred to as the New Science, or the science yet to be discovered, the science which is now coming to be realized through vibration and the application of the energies of Love and Life. When you are able to match perfectly the vibration of Life, the appropriate rate of vibration of the chakras together, in such a manner that these seven colors would blend to produce the white aura. The aura that is pure white is the Christed aura of man, and is as well the aura of healing.

So a part of the mission and ministry of these together as a group, not only the one to whom we speak, but all of those who hear the sound of this voice and this tape, might well be concerned with the challenge of understanding that in any human aura which exists on the plane of earth today, there are radiations of color out of balance which produce auras of varying colors, from very muddy and impure colors to exaggerations of one or another of the more pure vibration of the chakras.

The challenge of the healer ever is to balance the imbalanced color in the auric field, thus producing an aura of perfect white light. And yet as you produce an aura of white light in this time, you will find the tendency of the soul to leave the body or to transcend, so that the body often is simply dissolved, not even left as a vacated body, but in itself is, as you might describe it, disintegrated, so that the consciousness loses the physical matter which is held together by the antagonism between the wheels.

Now, we mention these things that you might understand the magnitude of the work, which can introduce beings robed in white light, as are spoken of in the Book of Revelation. This natural body, which was described by the apostle Paul as the moving from the body, the natural body of the physical into the body of light, and described by John, as robed in white light, this level of consciousness which is not experienced on your plane of matter in this moment, must be that attained to for the establishment of what has been called a new heaven and a new earth. All these things are part of the ministry of this group to whom we speak. In their varied applications of their ministry we give you a glimpse of a higher order of work to be eventually accomplished or that that you together work toward.

As to answering directly the questions that are brought, certainly should begin even now the design of and the preparation for the presentation of the music, the light sound in concert and in presentations in such a way as will draw people for the purpose of changing, altering consciousness to be able to transcend the lower chakras and activate the wheels of the higher consciousness. Begin even now, do not wait for the manifestation of the income or the money, capital, for producing this or the capital will flow in as each level of the presentation is perfected. Or, that is to say, as the presentations themselves are planned and even go so far as to begin the scheduling of the events so that the money can be attracted to work which has already brought from the sphere of vision into manifestation. As the vision is brought into manifestation so will be attracted the capital and the funds, the support necessary for the production of that which you can begin to share with those who would be parts of the ministry.

Understand that those drawn to you at first will be those who you touched in a very ancient time in awakening consciousness of Self and Source in the activities of the Temple Beautiful. You are re-establishing that work now on a higher level, a next step as it were in the expression of the Temple Beautiful in this time.

As to the giving of the name Maitreya, as you were in the realm of the music of the spheres, would be well that you understand that the name is applied to the Christ-consciousness within you, or is the name of the Higher Self. This is a name that has been used for some as an appellation to indicate the returned soul of Jesus, the Christ. And is a reference to the fact that it was the Christ itself who was addressed in the communication about traveling the music of the spheres.

The use of the name in a personal manner might cause some to feel as if you are identifying self as the return of the Master and might misunderstand your application or use of the name if it were associated with the self. Let it rather be associated with the Christed Self, or the Higher Self, which is in fact the channel for bringing the music of the spheres into the realm of understanding, into a level of vibration that can be heard by those using the tympanic membrane and its resources for receiving the sound into the physical. Do encourage that those who stand before or in the presence of your music listen with the subtler senses, so that they would experience sound and color as one and the same - the movement of color and sound - not differentiated. Rhythms and the effect of the vibration on the physical, all of these should be experienced as an integration experience, lifting the consciousness from the body physical into the body source.

QUESTION 2: Am I correct to finish ...(Name)... alpha-biotic course by January 1st, then travel to Virginia to take the 13-month program given by Paul Solomon and associates?

ANSWER 2: Yes, it will be well that you do so, and do be aware as well that the application of the alignment to your body is important to be received on a regular basis because there is some tendency within the consciousness here which could lead to the experience or the expression of what is now being called a bi-polar disorder or could develop into that which has at an older time been referred to as cycles of manic depressive expression through the body and consciousness. For this purpose we would suggest that you use water with Lithia content, which is produced naturally in Texas, but which is available perhaps in a more appropriate form through perhaps the Heritage Store distribution system. Water with Lithia will assist in the balancing of the extremes as can be experienced in a bi-polar disorder. Careful of the times that would swing to opposite moods and do learn to contain the enthusiasm of the manic phase of the expression. Keep it at balance through alignment and integration of the hemispheric balance, the synthesis or synchronization of the hemispheres to prevent the expression of bi-polar disorder. Learn then to carefully communicate, to concentrate and to say to communicate clearly that which you wish to express to others in love. Let it not go above the heart level expression into a verbal expression which is unclear, not sorted out, not direct in its communication.

These about you will understand perhaps better this inclination, and will assist in the balance and the harmony that will need to come so that you might give clear direction to those with whom you would speak and teach. Those you would attempt to heal and to harmonize within their body, use the enthusiasm of this high rate of vibration to which you tend to express. To bring enthusiasm and support, harness the energy, so that it might be directed more perfectly toward a centered purpose. These will be accomplished through the completion of these trainings of the Schools of Initiation and Sacrifice as you have spoken of them.

QUESTION 3: Please touch on the reason for the accidental hanging of (Name)... in the summer of 1976.

ANSWER 3: Well yes, we have the presence of ...(Name)... here and it might be just as well that you understand that the hanging was not so much accidental, even the death itself. Not that it should be considered suicide at all, but rather that there was the experimentation with the altered state of consciousness which comes with the application of pressure on the pressure-points of the corners of the jaw. These produce a state similar to nitrogen narcosis, an altered state of consciousness, a state of bliss in which this one was not inclined to return to the body, but was inclined rather to the continuation of the experience. This method of producing a height of consciousness is often related to sexual experimentation in the young, and so was the origin of the experiment in which he participated.

And yet the transcendence of the soul from the body was done in a state of bliss, so that it was not an expression of despair or even a desire to cause the death of the physical, but rather was a desire of the heightened consciousness to continue in the direction of the blissful experience and so was the passing in a sense accidental. Yet the act itself was more purposeful.

And it might be just as well to say that his soul, having realized the intensity of the experience and its impact on others, is set upon a mission now of assisting those who cross in such a manner.

QUESTION 4: Please touch on the reason for her separation and her divorce from her husband..

ANSWER 4: Yes, we see this as well as the necessity for the soul to move to the completion of karmic destinies, hampered by the relationship. Not that it couldn't have been continued together; and yet you have been moved, motivated, challenged to express your individual purpose in this time through the separation. Just as well that you become grounded in your studies during this period of this and the following year, and that you prepare yourself for the greater mission which is to follow. You'll find yourself involved as the time comes in the production of drama, music and such as part of the ministry, as well as that of the expression of the priestess from the Temple Beautiful, the re-establishment of that work.

Advise particularly a grounding force and a partnership which would have allowed you to be more conscious and more effective in investment during this time.

Do learn to control enthusiasm which comes through guidance, and understand that that which comes through guidance must be married with an understanding of that which comes as well through logic and reason. There is something of a tendency to believe that that which comes through guidance is to be followed just as it comes, without sorting it out and putting it on a firm foundation. Something of a lack of understanding that information coming through guidance must be married to the other side of the consciousness, bringing and integrated message. The message understood by both sides of the mind that that which comes from a heavenly source must be brought into grounded expression to have a result in harmony with the laws of this plane of earth.

QUESTION 5: What lesson should I learn from losing nearly $100,000.-- in shoddy business deals? I trusted these people. Were they intending to cheat me? Will the investment ever return? And the second part of this question: is it OK for me to want to attract 5 million dollars?

ANSWER 5: Well now, in response to the first, understand that we have already commented somewhat on this and the entering into it, and yet, let us say clearly that it was not the intention of these to cheat you or to deprive you of the money or the income. Yet at the same time, these were not well equipped to plan and invest and to produce wisely their own ideas, which came from guidance. You see here, there are so many of you who must, who must, get in touch with the fact that that which comes from guidance must be married to a foundation which comes from an adequate knowledge of building laws of nature and laws of the earth. That which comes from heaven must be married to the earth to be successful in the earth. Careful of those who have a vision which is not grounded. Which is not written up and studied appropriately according to the laws of balance and exchange. In this cause and effect planet, you see, so many of you are citizens of a celestial plane which is not obedient to the cause and effect laws of the planet earth, and yet you find yourselves in a body made of earth and dealing with mediums of exchange which come from growing plants, living substance, made of earth itself. Thus the exchange of substance made of the earth and growing from the earth must obey the laws of the earth. Careful that your communications from the Divine be married to the laws of the manipulation of matter in the earth, so that investments are grounded and plans are brought about according to the laws of this plane of exchange and of cause and effect relationships.

Do listen to guidance, and do bring it into a firm foundation and a plan for unfoldment according to sensible laws of business and finance. Knowing at the same time, that as Divine Creative Beings, you can manifest from the Unmanifest into the physical. But even in the doing so you must obey the laws which allow the transference of the vision to be impressed upon formless substance and brought into form. Where these steps are left incomplete, the final form, in earth fashion is often not manifest.

You will, yes, receive some income in return for the investment, yet it will not become so lucrative as these had envisioned for the dream was never translated into the reality, but remained on the level of a dream or a vision, an idea not yet grounded, not completed, not impressed sufficiently on the formless substance to attain a physical form, a material form.

QUESTION 5 (repeated): Is it ok for me to attract 5 million dollars?

ANSWER 5: Certainly, is more than alright to attract 5 million dollars. We find that the question was worded: is it alright to want 5 million dollars? It must be understood that to want an amount is quite a different matter from precipitating that amount. It is alright to have it, it is not alright to want it. Now we state it in this manner that you might understand that wanting is a statement of not having. Wanting does not apply to that you have. Allow yourself to have that, by setting in motion that which requires it to exist. Expecting rather than wanting. Obey the laws of precipitation and manifestation, and so you may have and attain without the wanting. Leave aside, depart from wanting, wishing or hoping. Now, we are complete with this communication for the present. We are through.
